HOWARD CHREENE III

NOVEMBER 18,1960 - JULY 26, 1979

The Class of 1980 and the Veritas Staff hereby dedicate this page as a memorial to Howard Chreene III, our friend and brother.

Howard Chreene was the type of person who warmed a room with his presence and brought a smile to one's face by his very voice. Howard displayed a strong sense of Christianity which he spread among others. His zest for life and his love for others personified his truth and sincerity as a person. Howard's sowing of courtesy reaped him friendship and his planting of kindness gathered him love. Howard lived an optimistic Christian existence in the face of his illness, never to show the agony of duress.

May we all learn from his courage, faith, and perserverance so that we may live better Christian lives. We pray when Howard is before the grace of God that he will remember us to the Lord. We will all cherish the memory of this true friend forever.

DEDICATION

"We slept and we dremt, that life was all joy. We awoke and we saw that life was but service. We served and understood that service was joy."

Tagore

The benevolence, enthusiasm, and perserverance which the Dominicans, as well as the Reverand Mr. Lelan Brotherman, have exhibited at Bishop Lynch High School have earned this group the respect of students, faculty and parents alike. Their personal interests in each individual, in accordance with their philosophies of humanity and Christianity, have made Bishop Lynch a superior environment in which to grow and enrich one's mind and self.

In appreciation for the commitment of this aggregation to preach and to serve, to love and to direct, We, the Yearbook Staff, hereby respectfully and lovingly dedicate the 1980 Veritas to this assemblage of outstanding individuals.

FACULTY

Father Donald Dvorak, O.P. President, Bishop Lynch High School

As President of Bishop Lynch High School, Father Dvorak considers his job, as an administrator, "challenging, interesting and exciting."

Positive feelings are revealed by Father Dvorak as he contends "the students are good, caring, and appreciative people who are concerned about their education, school and future."

Sister Marie Amanda Allard, O.P. Principal, Bishop Lynch High School

In her position as principal, Sister Marie Amanda Allard feels that the students at Bishop Lynch High School are "good, wholesome, very real young people."

According to Sister Marie Amanda, cooperation between the students and faculty create an environment conducive to growth. As a result, she believes that Bishop Lynch High School has a bright future filled with exciting possibilities.

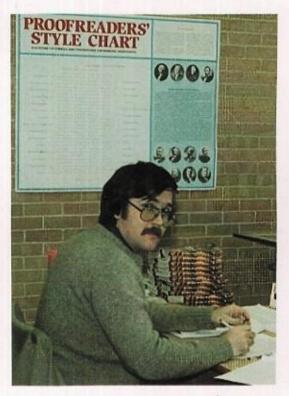

Mr. Jim McCloskey Dean of Students, Bishop Lynch High School

Serving as the Dean of Students, Mr. McCloskey finds many favorable aspects present at Bishop Lynch. Particularly obvious are the "many involved and friendly students" whom he guides and directs.

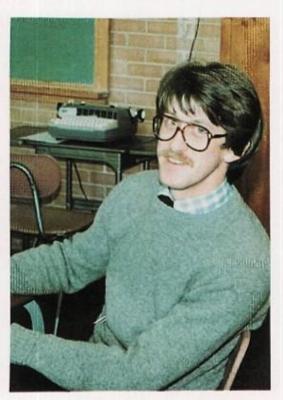

This position offers Mr. McCloskey a fullfilling, rewarding experience as he "creates many valuable acquaintances."

"What greater work is there than training the mind and forming the habits of the young." St. John Chrysostom

MISS BISHOP LYNCH HIGH SCHOOL

Peggy Moore definitely fits the title of Miss BLHS. Peggy was Brigade Lieutenant and Homecoming Queen her senior year, and she also found time to serve on student council and engage in intramural activities. Peggy participated in the spirit team and choir during her underclassmen years, in addition to being a class officer. Peggy will continue her education at Texas Tech University and will major in mathematics.

MR. BISHOP LYNCH HIGH SCHOOL

Because of the respect and admiration John Salmon radiates amongst his peers, the Senior class chose John Mr. BLHS. John Salmon has been active in many organizations during his four years at Bishop Lynch. He participated in football, tennis, and intramurals. He was an active Senior Class Representative, and he worked diligently in the plays, both off stage and on. John also has the distinction of being chosen as a member of Who's Who among American High School students. John plans to attend Texas Tech University in the fall and is leaning toward a major i law.

Language Clubs

The members of Le Club français met bimonthly in order to expand their knowledge of French civilization and culture. Ken Polito provided guidance for this group, throughout the year with such projects as the visitation of the Buckner Orphan Home and the film presentation in early November.

Monsieur Riggs, Mademoiselle Davis, Monsieur Cormier, Mademoiselle Bass.

The Bishop Lynch Latin Club was a recognized affiliate of the Texas State Junior Classical League and an active participant in local, state and national level Latin competition. The members studied the Latin language and explored the classical aspects of Ancient Rome.

HANDIWORK CLUB

Front Row: Sister Frederic, Mrs. McGhee, Peggy Hinz. Row Two:

Jane Zbylot, Kim Brennan, Elena Vergara.

The Bishop Lynch Handiwork Club is a very closely knit organization, whose members share a common interest in needlework. This social group makes a point of interweaving pleasure with creativity. This group patterns itself after Mrs. Miriam McGhee, who threads the needle. Whatever the endeavor, it "seams" that the Handiwork Club reaps whatever it sews.

LIBRARY CLUB

Michael Johnstone, David Wheeler, Paul Pritchett.

Various Lynch students have spent the past year assisting Mrs. McGhee in the library, and thereby learning from this experience. The members dedicate free periods and afterschool hours to the organization of the books, periodicals, pamphlets and prints which are contained in the Bishop Lynch repository.

WHIZ QUIZ

Michael Campbell, Richard Campbell, Michael Johnstone, Paul Pritchett, Sister Mary Francis.

The Bishop Lynch "Whiz Quiz" team participates in many tournaments annually. This organization offers academically talented students the opportunity to excel and achieve recognition for their intellect. Periodical contests based on intellectual competition, test the students' instant recall of a wide variety of facts and general knowledge.

SPIRIT CLUB

Friar pride is instilled in the student body at Bishop Lynch by the vivacious Spirit Club. The club, under the leadership of Mrs. Gloria Ozier, supports the football and basketball programs at Lynch with such activities as the creation of banners, attendance at games and overall cooperation with the cheerleaders.

TRESHMAN FRIENDSHIP

The purifying spring rain could not dampen the spirits of the freshmen on their trek to Springhill Retreat Center located in the beautiful countryside of Plano, Texas. This day of spiritual renewal and physical relaxation provided the participating underclassmen with opportunities to discuss diverse topics such as the complexities of addictive behaviors and organized summertime activities.

Top Left: Freshmen moderator, Mrs. Henry, and her lively group of fun-loving girls nurture the seeds of lasting friendships.

Center: Margaret Wass, with her brown bag gourmet meal and guitar possesses all the necessities of a successful retreat.

ART OF LIVING

OPHOMORE STRENGTH

The sun smiled on Springhill Retreat Center as the sophomores made a spiritual show of strength on May Day nineteen-eighty. This year's theme was "Creative Leisure", and was directed at presenting the students with constructive outlets for excess energy during the months of summer vacation which were to follow. The participants attended presentations which provided information concerning the various service programs that are offered throughout the summer by the Parks and Recreation Department and the American Red Cross.

Center: Exploring sophomores follow a path to discover nature's beautiful surroundings.

Bottom: Sophomore ladies spend their leisure time sharing, swinging and talking.

UNIOR BROTHERHOOD

The forty-eight hours which the juniors spent in the tranquility of the Bridgeport retreat facilities were times of benevolence and brotherhood. The students and counselors applied themselves to the task of achieving an affectionate concern for one another in addition to an awareness of inner contentment.

Top Left: Junior boys experience unification at Bridgeport.

Top Right: Spiritual awareness is fostered by Father Marrin.

Center: The symbol of Christ overlooks the countryside.

ENIORS ACHIEVE UNITY

Lake Sharon served as the picturesque setting for the fulfilling Senior Retreat where an awareness of self was achieved. The fluttering, everchanging, colored leaves offered proof of God's work as the students enjoyed togetherness games, a bon fire and self-searching discussion groups.

SHARING LOVING

Top Right: Seniors '80 debunk the stereotype of apathy.

Center: Kathleen McConnell epitomizes the morning after the night before.

Translating the gospel message into action is the focus of the Senior Service Program. In conjunction with their government and theology classes, the Seniors were given the opportunity to feel the joy of helping others less fortunate than themselves.

Upper classmen and moderators, assisting and visiting at such locations as Old City Park, Ladies of Charity and a number of grade schools, gained important insights in to the true meaning of a Christian lifestyle.

Top: Maria Novoa gives tiny tots a helping hand while at Old City Park.

Bottom: Calculating pupils are aided by the masterful Mr. Mehan.

THY NEIGHBOR

"For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink. I was a stranger and you welcomed me, naked and you clothed me. I was ill and you comforted me, in prison and you came to visit me . . . I assure you, as often as you did these things for one of my least brothers, you did it for me."

Matthew 25: 35-36

Top: Peggy Moore tenderly tutors St. Pius school children.

Bottom: Senior care and affection are the secrets for success in relaying God's love to others.

E E LINGERING SOUNDS

The success of the Blackfriars' production of Roger and Hammerstein's "Sound of Music" was measured by the zealous response of the audience. Brother Roger Shondel once again upheld his standard par excellence in his direction of cast and crews whose members surpassed the one-hundred mark.

Veteran Kathy Wilson captivated her audiences nightly with her superior vocals, unsurpassed expression and her urbane stage presence. Senior Peter Fisher achieved a special charm in his portrayal of the formidable captain. Derrick Thompson, Kathleen Walsh and the musical nuns were superior, to say the least, in their respective roles of Max, Elsa and the sisters of Nonnberg Abbey.

Other contributors deserving of praise were the Von Trapp children, supporting actors, stage, lighting and sound crews as well as individuals involved with costumes, make-up, vocal instruction, scenery and public relations.

Western Day corralled the following Tough Wranalers:

Top Center: The end of the trail appears for Chris as he experiences his last payday.

The BL Carnival captured the spirit of the following community members:

Center Right: A Successful catch from the BL school of fish, is guaranteed by Mike LaCombe. Bottom Left: It is a sure sign that Kara will take a cool plunge.

The Junior Senior Tea was a space in time marked by mixed emotions. Moments of nostalgia and anticipation were shared by the long time confidants and companions. The tea was characterized by a memorable slide show and humorous skits which lightheartedly portrayed various senior girls. A sentimental poem, read by junior Kathy Wilson, expressed deep emotions and wishes for success felt by the junior girls.

JUNIOR - SENIOR TEA

The rings received by the well deserving seniors of 1981 signified the authority of leadership, personal allegiance to Bishop Lynch and the sign of mature responsible behavior. "Circle of Life, Ring of Unity" served as the theme for the liturgy commemorating this special occasion. As the upcoming Seniors took another important step forward in their life circle, this rite of passage conveyed an aura of class poliarity and strength.

Top Right: Sibelius' melody of "Finlandia" provides the sublime atmosphere for the recessional led by Tom Christ. Center Left: To celebrate this day of achievement and maturity Sheilaugh Caton reveals the teachings of Christ. Center Right: Instrumentalists Father Marrin, Miss Rogers, and Mr. Campbell encourage all to see the Lord more clearly and love the Lord more dearly.

The Parents' Association sponsored a smorgasbord dinner which enhanced the seniors' last memorable days here at Bishop Lynch. The entertainment was provided courtesy of Father Patrick Marrin, with a special version of Brand New Yesterdays performed by singer-songwriter Maureen Buechel with vocal accompanists Lisa Klement and Theresa Longoria. This evening was an exercise in brotherhood amongst the seniors, and a loving display of the parents and teachers' appreciation.

SENIOR APPRECIATION DINNER

POMP AND

As the graduates made a stately procession down the ruby aisles of McFarlin Auditorium on the Southern Methodist University Campus, the crowd erupted in a sea of applicate. The reaction to the arrival of the prospective alumni was a demonstration of pride and a show of exaltation.

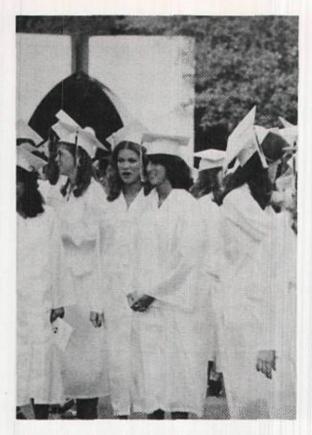

The invocation for this May 20, 1980 celebration was presented by the Most Reverend Thomas Tschoepe, D.D. while Vicaress General Sister Ann Willits, O.P. provided the enlightening address to graduates.

ABOUT THE BUILDER . . .

Dave Dodson is a reputable custom home builder with more than 20 years of experience in the Dallas area. He is a Registered Professional Builder and an active member of The Home and Apartment Builders Association of Metropolitan Dallas, The Texas Association of Builders, The National Association of Home Builders, and HOW Council.

CONSTRUCTION... Where quality really counts!

A new home must be built to last a lifetime. That's why the quality of the construction is so important. With a Dave Dodson custom home, you can be sure you're getting the best . . . He's built his reputation on it.

From the pouring of your foundation to the hand-framed conventional roofing . . . all stages are personally supervised. Only the most advanced building techniques are utilized, and the materials are the best available. Your new home will be constructed of all clay brick (garages too!). Exterior and interior wall studs are 16" on center, and 100% copper wiring is used throughout. An added bonus of a Dave Dodson home is the full thick R-19 Batt insulation used in walls and the R-26 Ceiling insulation used in attics, this foresight and planning will save you hundreds of dollars in heating and air-conditioning bills. Cabinets in your new home are hand-crafted with raised paneled doors, and all exterior doors are solid core. Appliances; heating and air-conditioning systems are name brand products fully covered by service warranties.

Many features of a Dave Dodson home you can't see . . . but will come to appreciate over the years.
